

Boys Gym Session

The closing session of the boys' group that has been meeting at Mount Hermon gymnasium on Monday evenings passed off successfully. The instructor, Mr. T. M. Henriksen of the Hermon faculty, first put the 34 boys present through a dozen calisthenic exercises, which they performed with vigor and precision. Next came a period of games: relay and circle games, including overhead and stride-ball - relays, crab races, dodge-ball, etc. These competitive games between the white and blue squads always prove enjoyable. The boys can't get enough of them.

A couple of two-minute boxing bouts followed, with T. M. Darby as referee. Aiden French and Cortland Finch were the first pair, then Ralph Reed and Alfred LaBelle. The spectators showed keen interest in the bouts, but nobody was killed.

The rest of the evening was devoted to basketball and swimming. A goodly number of parents and friends of the boys had seats in the gallery overhead, and they thought the boys made a good showing.

These gym sessions began last October. There were 19 in all. Only twice were sessions called off because of bad weather, and four evenings were skipped during the Christmas and Easter vacations at Mount Hermon. The record book shows that 84 different boys attended once or oftener. The largest number at any session was 52, the smallest 26, and the average 37. Two boys scored perfect in attendance, M. A. T. Forsaith and Richard Harris.

On behalf of the boys the committee in charge expressed their gratitude to Headmaster Elliott Speer and the school authorities for the use of the gymnasium free of expense. Their thanks are also tendered to those friends who provided free transportation every evening. Instructor Henriksen won the respect and friendship of the boys by his efficiency and personal interest in the work.

No complaints were registered against any of the boys for objectionable conduct or for damage to property. The Hermon authorities are pleased to have a "Northfield Night" in the gym, and hope the sessions can be renewed in the fall.

South Church Notes

Rev. Mary Andrews Conner, Minister

9:45 Church School.
10:45 Church Worship—
Mother's Day, when every one who has had a mother may pay a tribute to "The Spirit of My Mother." Mrs. Conner will speak especially to young women on "A Plus Woman."

Mrs. Conner with her class of girls and boys will go to the woods Friday afternoon for study, recreation and supper.

A professor in the University of Chicago told his class that he should consider them educated in the best sense of the word when they could say "Yes" to every one of the fourteen questions that he could put to them.

1. Has your education given you sympathy with all good causes and made you espouse them?
2. Has it made you public spirited?
3. Has it made you a brother to the weak?
4. Have you learned how to make friends and keep them?
5. Do you know what it is to be a friend to yourself?
6. Can you look an honest man or a pure woman straight in the eye?
7. Do you see anything to love in a little child?
8. Will a lonely dog follow you in the street?
9. Can you be high minded and happy in the meaner drudgeries of life?
10. Do you think washing dishes and hoeing corn just as compatible with high thinking as piano playing or golf?
11. Are you good for anything to yourself? Can you be happy alone?
12. Do you look on the world and see anything except dollars and cents?
13. Can you look into a mud puddle by the wayside and see anything in the puddle of mud?
14. Can you look into the sky at night and see beyond the stars? Can your soul feel relationship with the Creation?

For such is the kingdom of heaven.

Mrs. Merrill Tenney recently spent a few days with friends in Northfield and Barnardston. Mrs. Tenney will be remembered as Miss Helen Jaderquist of the Seminary faculty.

Rummage Sale

The Rummage and Food Sale held in the Town Hall last week for the benefit of the Northfield Hospital was a decided success, and the committee feels much pleased with the result.

The Sale opened at 2 o'clock Friday P. M. and from then until the closing time at 9 o'clock, the women serving at the various tables were kept busy attending to the wants of the many purchasers.

Promptly at 9 o'clock Saturday morning, more interested friends were on hand to look for bargains among the rummage articles, or to take home for their dinner or supper, some of the delicious food that was on sale.

At 8 P. M. the articles remaining unsold on the rummage tables were put up at auction, and most of them were disposed of that way, but the few that remained will be put to good use either by our lower welfare corner at the Morgan Memorial.

Since 45 quarts of canned fruits and vegetables, and 41 glasses of jelly valued at about $24.00, together with a few fresh vegetables and the food left unsold, were sent directly to the hospital, and with these went towels, face cloths, soap, talcum powder, games, puzzles, old linen, and various other articles that would be of use there.

$39.25 was netted from the Sale, and this will be used to provide some things that are needed to bring cheer and comfort to the patients.

The Social Service Committee of the Women's Alliance, under whose auspices the Sale was held, is most grateful for the splendid co-operation and interest shown by the town's people, and takes this opportunity to thank each and every one who gave so generously of their time and effort to make this Sale the success that it proved to be.

Farm Credit Loans

The Northampton Production Credit Assn., a unit of the Farm Credit Administration making crop and livestock loans to farmers, has approved 103 applications averaging about $1,000 each, according to its report for the period from Feb. 1, 1934, through April 28, 1934.

These loans are to assist farmers in their seasonal operations and most of them mature at the end of the crop growing season. Livestock loans, however, may run for 2 to 3 years although written for one year with monthly installments.

Mr. S. P. Batchelder, Secretary-Treasurer of the local organization states that the principal advantage of these loans to farmers is that arrangements can be made for funds needed for the entire season and the funds may then be drawn upon by the borrower as needed. The interest charge on production loans is now 5 1/2 per cent, being reduced recently from 6 per cent.

Mr. Batchelder expects that the peak of the demand for production loans will be reached this month, and he urges farmers who intend to file applications to do so without further delay. "Delay is filing," he says, "will result in a similar delay in providing the funds."

The Northampton Association was formed early this year, and is a permanent unit of the Farm Credit Administration. It is designed to fit into the credit picture as a supplement to existing loaning agencies to provide farmers with credit adapted to their business. Its territory includes Berkshire, Franklin, Hampden, and Hampshire Counties.

He spoke at the Young People's meeting at 7 o'clock, and gave a stereopticon address at the 8 o'clock service. Mr. Danner emphasized the healing ministry of the Leper Mission. His pictures showed hospitals and churches in many foreign lands that have been built and equipped with money supplied to the mission, to government, and missionary agencies. Northfield vs. Brattleboro

The High School baseball team finally "came through" to beat the highly touted Brattleboro High team by the score of 6-5. Hurley was the "Frank Merriwell" of the game. In the second inning his triple and an error gave Northfield her second run. Again in the ninth he hit cleanly, with two down, and three on, and the score 5-4 in Brattleboro's favor, he smashed a single to right scoring two and breaking up the ball game.

Farley's air-tight harling coupled with timely hitting by DeVeer, Gibson, Newton, Hurley, and Kervian brought this much prized win. The boys played good ball, making up for their sorry showings before.

Seminary News Notes

Music at the General Conference

An unusual musical treat is in store for those who attend the General Conference here August 1 to 12 next. Last August Dr. Charles R. Erdman of Princeton, N. J. told Mr. W. R. Moody that he thought he could secure the co-operation of the famous Westminster Choir, which has made Princeton its headquarters for two years past. The suggestion has materialized in an arrangement by which a double quartet selected by Dr. John Finley Williamson, organizer of the Westminster Choir School, will have charge of the music at the General Conference.

We are privileged to introduce the members of the double quartet to our readers.

Gordon A. Curtis

First we mention Gordon A. Curtis, grandson of Dr. Arthur T. Pierson, who had a summer home on Wanamake Lake Road, and was always a brilliant Bible teacher on the Northfield platform. Mr. Curtis' parents were missionaries in Japan, and as a boy he spent many years here in Northfield. He graduated at Mount Hermon in 1915, and married a Northfield Seminary graduate, Dorothy Sibley '15. Mr. Curtis also graduated at Oberlin '21, Cornell '23, and the Westminster Choir School '33.

His musical career, begun as a member and manager of the Mount Hermon Glee Club and Quartet, and continued in the Oberlin Musical Union, and as tenor soloist in the Oberlin College Choir and Cornell University Glee Club, reached a climax in his two years with the Westminster Concert and Broadcasting Choir.

In addition to several years' experience as soloist, he served, while a missionary in China, as conductor of the Kuling Oratorio Society. Forced home by the national uprising in 1927, he spent three years in Alabama, in the triple capacity of director of music in the First Presbyterian Church of Tuscaloosa, instructor in Voice at the University of Alabama, and university pastor among the Presbyterian students. While there, he organized and conducted the Tuscaloosa Oratorio Society and directed the Tuscaloosa Choral Club.

His vocal training has been secured under Dudley Buck and Maestro Clemente de Macchi of New York City; and while attending the Westminster Choir School he was a pupil of Mr. John Baumgartner and Dr. John Finley Williamson, founder of the School and director of the Westminster Choir.

Since his graduation Mr. Curtis has been minister of Music in the First Presbyterian Church of West Chester, Pa. Last summer he directed the music at two of the Stony Brook Summer Conferences on Long Island.

Miss Carolyn Gochenour

Miss Carolyn Gochenour is a graduate of Westminster Choir School and a member of Westminster Choir. Before her entrance in the Choir School she received an A.B. degree from Mary Baldwin College, Staunton, Va. It was there that she also received her elementary musical training.

Miss Gochenour has been professionally engaged in music for the past ten years, and at the present time is serving as minister of Music in the First Presbyterian Church, Roselle, N. J.

Harold Vincent Hedgpeth

Mr. Hedgpeth, born at Fayetteville, N. C., received his first musical training there under local teachers. Later, he entered the Westminster Choir School, and soon became a member of the Westminster Touring Choir, in which he sang for three years and during that time toured extensively in the United States. He was fortunate in being a member of the Choir when they made their European Tour. During his junior and senior years in the Choir School Mr. Hedgpeth had a student position in the Calvary Baptist Church of Syracuse, N. Y., where he organized and developed three choirs and assisted the young people in their Sunday worship services.

After graduating from the Westminster Choir School he accepted a position at the Monroe Avenue Methodist Episcopal Church in Rochester, N. Y., as minister of Music, where he and Mrs. Hedgpeth, also a graduate of the same school, gave their entire time to the development and training of four choirs. In this position he assisted with the music in the Sunday school, the mid-week services, and the production of plays and pageants.

Mrs. Harold Vincent Hedgpeth

Mrs. Hedgpeth began her musical training with Prof. Ralph Rigby, head of the voice department at Berea College, Ky. She was a member of the College Glee Club and the Harmonia Society, and always had an important part in the musical life of that school and community.

Mrs. Hedgpeth entered Westminster Choir School and there continued her work and study under Dr. John Finley Williamson and faculty. She was a member of the Westminster Touring Choir, which has toured extensively in this country and abroad. During her junior and senior years she was minister of Music in the Erwin Methodist Episcopal Church of Syracuse, N. Y. After graduating she accepted a position with Mr.

EDITORIAL

Perhaps the greatest danger we face in building for the future is that we may forget the traditions and heritages of the past.

Under the stress of enthusiasm for a new idea, a plan, a cause, it is easy to throw overboard all that has gone before. Because we feel strongly concerning abuses and inadequacies that have appeared in the existing system, we are likely to correct them in a manner that will not only do away with what is bad, but with what is good as well.

That is especially applicable to this country at this time. Great changes are under way. The intentions of those who are behind them are undoubtedly of the best. It is the desire to safeguard against the potential depressions of the future—as well as to bring recovery now. We are seeking a permanent, balanced social and economic order that will provide greater opportunities for the masses of the people.

The danger lies in the possibility that in seeking this, the American tradition of individualism and freedom will be destroyed. Signs of the growth of fascism and socialism in America are increasing. Responsible observers believe the menace of dictatorship cannot be exaggerated. Simple democracy, which gave businesses and individuals the full chance to work out their destinies, is languishing.

There can be great progress within the fabric of the American tradition—the past is best witness to that. Change that forgets or ignores that tradition could easily do grave harm to the common welfare.

Quite Unusual

The teacher asked little Ruth what her father's name was.

"Daddy."
"Yes, dear, but what does your mother call him?"
"She don't call him anything," Ruth answered earnestly. She likes him."Lady Baltimore Frosting and Filling 1½ cups sugar; ½ teaspoon light corn syrup; ½ cup boiling water; 2 egg whites, stiffly beaten; 1 teaspoon vanilla; 6 figs, chopped; ½ cup raisins, chopped; ½ cup pecan or walnut meal, chopped. Combine sugar, corn syrup, and water. Bring quickly to a boil, stirring only until sugar is dissolved. Boil rapidly, without stirring, until a small amount of syrup forms a soft ball in cold water, or spins a long thread when dropped from tip of spoon (240° F.). Pour syrup in fine stream over egg whites, beating constantly. Add vanilla. Continue beating with rotary egg beater 10 to 15 minutes, or until frosting is cool and of right consistency to spread. Use wooden spoon when too stiff for beater. For filling, add enough frosting to fruit and nuts to make a filling that will spread easily. Spread between layers. Spread remaining frosting on top and sides of cake. Makes enough frosting and filling to cover tops and sides of two 8-inch layers.

Poppy Day

The memorial poppies which the women of the American Legion Auxiliary will distribute here on "Poppy Day", Saturday, May 26th, will recall vivid pictures to the minds of World War veterans who served overseas, according to Mr. Whitman, Commander of Harvey H. Spencer Post of The American Legion. The poppies, blooming amid the waste and destruction of the battle front, and among the bare graves of the dead, left an unforgettable impression on the American soldiers, he said.

"When the American divisions drove forward in the great offensives of 1918, they entered a region torn, desolated and trampled by the most tremendous battles of history. Destruction and death were everywhere but amid it all the little wild poppies bloomed on. When machine gun and shell fire took its toll from the American ranks, the poppy was nature's floral offering on the graves of the dead. To us those poppies seemed to symbolize the brave spirit of our fallen comrades and when we returned home we made the poppy the memorial flower of The American Legion."

Poppies to be worn in tribute to the men who gave their lives for America in the World War will be offered on the streets throughout the town Saturday, May 26th, by the American Legion Auxiliary women. Men of the Legion are co-operating in promotion of the project. The poppies, paper replicas of the flowers that grew on the battle fields, have been made by disabled veterans at Ex-Service Men's Exchange. All contributions received for the poppies will be devoted to the rehabilitation and welfare work of the Legion and Auxiliary among the disabled veterans and the dependent families of veterans.

and not a cramp in a Carload!

FIVE big men can relax in utter comfort on the deep cushions of the Ford V-8. Wide seats keep elbows out of ribs. Ample leg room keeps legs from being cramped. Why? Because Ford measures roominess in terms of usable body room. Not in terms of the distance between bumpers, which means nothing when you come to analyze it.

The Ford V-8's very engine construction gives you more body room, as the diagram explains. Cylinders are "doubled-up" saving space, not strung along in a line to waste it.

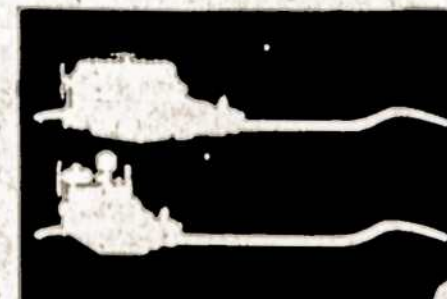

The Ford V-8 front seat is adjustable. It quickly and easily adapts itself to a six-foot-two husband or a five-foot-two wife. It ends forever that source of strife.

See the new Ford V-8. Revel in its comfort. Marvel at its performance. And drive it before you buy any car at any price.

Chatter Brings Them Fame

These three women dash from their kitchens five mornings a week to a microphone and a listening audience of thousands.

WOMAN'S idle talk isn't always to be derided! Not when you consider that three young married women have made a successful radio career of this pastime... a unique career built of chatter about Junior's tonsils, the price of carrots, and how to take spots off a leather coat.

They call themselves Clara, Lu 'n' Em, these three women who turn the commonplace events of the day to such unusual purpose. And, five mornings a week, a radio audience from coast to coast eavesdrops, as it were, upon their backfence exchange of comment and gossip.

Leading simple, suburban lives themselves, Clara, Lu 'n' Em are right at the source from which they build their morning programs of tricorned conversation. As Mrs. Paul C. Mead, Mrs. Howard Berolzheimer, and Mrs. John Mitchell, all of Evanston, Ill., they keep house for their husbands, belong to sewing clubs, and take an active part in the community life around them. But being gifted with unusual powers of observation and interpretation, they are able to project the ordinary happenings of the day so that thousands of persons enjoy their chit-chat, as much as they enjoy talking with one another.

The trio write every line of their material, preparing it day by day, as Clara, Lu 'n' Em live. Unlike conventional performers, they have no scripts written ahead for convenience sake. And, stranger still, their sponsors, the makers of Super Soda, do not hear the show before it goes on the air. The girls arrive at the NBC studios in Chicago, from which they broadcast, just a half hour before they go on the air, run through a quick rehearsal, to which only Joan Paul King, the announcer, listens, and then "tell all" on the air.

Dangerous Plans!

ON BOARD THE BYRD FLAGSHIP, JACOB RUPPERT, Jan. 14 (via Mackay-Radio). Ice, water or air. It's all the same to Admiral Byrd! I mean that no matter what conditions the elements confront us with, the Admiral has a way of combatting them.

Take last Thursday, for example. Up against an almost solid wall of closely packed ice sheets and not knowing whether there was open water beyond to which we might force this steel ship, without damaging her plates in our quest for a rear water door to Little America, Admiral Byrd decided to find out—by the air. And he certainly did just that thing!

At 2:30 in the morning of January 11th, he and June, Bowlin and Peterosa, took off in the Condor, in perfect sunny weather, from Capt. Allan Innes-Lat. 69.50 South Taylor, Our Dog Long, 152.31 West Expert and flew for two hours to Lat. 71.48 South and return. Part of the time they were up 7,000 feet, scanning the horizon fifty miles away. And what they saw decided the Admiral in his plans and sent them scurrying back to the Jacob Rupert. As far as they could see to the South there was ice, ice, ice, getting heavier and thicker all the time. No back door there so we must continue skirting the pack the long way around to our future home—if it is still there when we arrive. Believe me, this whole proposition is getting more interesting, if that's the word, every minute. The plane operated perfectly, as usual, and so did its fuel and oil, despite the terrific changes in temperature they have to endure.

So mark that flight down on your map in blue pencil. That's three now—Dec. 31, Jan. 3 and this one. When this flight started we were hot—40 degrees Fahrenheit. A few hours after the Condor returned, we were in the midst of a swirling snowstorm the Admiral had spotted from the plane when they were only 480 miles from Little America and we were bundled in our heavy coats. The Admiral reported: "I saw no land. It is pretty safe to say that no land exists any nearer than the coastal fronts of King Edward VII and Marie Byrd Land. There may be, however, a few low islands, nothing more. It is just ice-covered ocean."

On your club map you will notice there is an enormous gob of undiscovered land indicated by a broken line from the 117th to the 152nd meridians. Well, Admiral Byrd's three flights along the 117th, 150th and 152nd meridians tell why it will never be discovered. It isn't there!

By the time you read this, the Admiral, with two or three companions, may have made one of the most dangerous flights in history. He told me about this several months ago, as a secret. This trip will be to Little America. There they may settle down to wait until the Rupert or the Bear, or both, can crush their way in. Or it is now possible that he may fly back to the Rupert. At Little America they will study the terrifying ice ridges which Dr. Lincoln Ellsworth has reported to us as a possible obstacle to getting our supplies from the ships to the base and perhaps do some exploring in the Condor or the big Ford trimotored plane, left there in 1930, which they tell us is all safe and snug—as yet—with its big supply of cached gasoline.

If they land anywhere except at Little America, with its three wooden houses and its two 70-foot radio masts which Ellsworth says are still standing, the Second Byrd Antarctic Expedition may spend its entire time searching for Admiral Byrd and his two or three fearless companions. Wouldn't that be something? They're taking three months supplies of food, in case—

Commander George Noville tells me he hopes to make an exploration trip of 800 miles or more with the three tractors we've brought. More work for yours truly and more to write about. I could write ten books now!

Don't forget, everybody of high school age or over, interested in aviation, adventure and exploration, is eligible, without any cost whatever, to join our club and receive a membership card and a fine working map of the South Polar region to keep track of all our various flights and other exploration trips. Simply send a self-addressed stamped envelope to Arthur Abbe, Jr., President, Little America Aviation and Exploration Club, Hotel Lexington, 48th Street and Lexington Avenue, New York, N. Y., and the club staff there will do the rest.

Hedgpath in the Monroe Avenue Methodist Church of Rochester, N. Y.

Mrs. Hedgpath has specialized in organizing and directing choral groups. She is a singer and voice teacher. Dramatics is another phase of work in which she has been successful. As soloist, she has appeared in many schools and festivals in oratorios and light opera. At Winona Lake, Indiana, she sang the contralto solos in the "Elijah" with Roland Pease and Arthur Craft.

Earl Evans

Mr. Evans is minister of Music at the historic First Methodist Episcopal Church of Baltimore, Md. He is a graduate of Westminster Choir School, and has been associated with Dr. Williamson for 12 years. He is director of Music at the Baltimore Council of Religious Education, and as such conducts a class of organists and choir members in conducting and voice-teaching. As chairman of the commission of the Methodist Sequestration, he has been selected to conduct a chorus of 400 voices in the singing of an oratorio written for this occasion by Van Denman Thompson called "The Evangel of the New World." The oratorio will be presented at the Lyric Theatre in Baltimore on October 10.

Mr. Evans was in the aviation before the founding of Westminster Choir School she studied voice with Dr. J. F. Williamson. For a number of years she was contralto soloist in Westminster Choir, and was privileged to be a member of the Choir which toured Europe in 1929.

Mrs. Krueger assists her husband in the ministry of music in the Euclid Avenue Baptist Church, Cleveland, Ohio, giving private voice lessons to members of the adult chorus, directing the junior, junior high school and young people's choirs, and conducting the junior church work. Mrs. Krueger is well known in and about Cleveland for her concert and recital work before church, college and music organizations.

George Krueger

No graduate of Westminster Choir School has done a more comprehensive work in the ministry of music in the church than has George Krueger, minister of Music of the Euclid Avenue Baptist Church of Cleveland, Ohio. Mr. Krueger has developed seven choral organizations and a junior church with a total enrollment of approximately 400 men, women and children. In his adult choir alone there is an enrollment of 101, with a waiting list of applicants. He has become well known in many of the Cleveland churches and vicinity, where his splendid cappella choir has given excellent programs. These have been the source of much inspiration to churches interested in music as an aid to worship as well as in music as an art.

Mr. Krueger received his Bachelor of Music degree in the first graduating class of Westminster Choir School. It was his privilege to be a member of the Westminster Choir which toured Europe in 1929. He is becoming better known each year, not only as a conductor but also as a concert artist through his recitals and radio work.

From the above we learn that the members of the double quartet have had large experience in church music work and in summer conferences, in addition to quartet and solo singing. It is understood that the individuals will exercise their gifts in training General Conference guests along the lines of their own experience. They will also be available to make the most of music in gatherings other than the platform meetings.

Dr. Stephen Leacock of McGill University, internationally known political economist and writer, entertained the students and faculty of Northfield Seminary in Silverthorne Hall, last Saturday evening. Mr. Leacock chose as his topic "Literature at its Lightest and Latest." In his inimitable style, he whimsically gave examples of the crime story, the love story of the nineties, and the modern romance. At the conclusion of the hour's entertainment Mr. Leacock complimented the audience on its response.

The speaker at both morning and vespers services in Sage Chapel next Sunday will be the Rev. Kenneth R. Welles of Albany, N. Y.

An Hour of Music was held last Sunday evening at 7:45 with Miss Virginia Ruffin, pianist, Miss Anna Wollmann, soprano soloist, and Miss Gladys Waldron, accompanist, in a joint recital in Sage Chapel. The program was as follows:

Bach	Daquin	Chopin	Chopin
Le cou cou	Waltz	Mazurka	Etude
O wusst ich doch den	Weg zuruck	Brahms	Brahms
Sonntag	Feldensanket	Brahms	Brahms
Vergeliches Standchen	Phantasie in C Major	Schumann	Kjerulf
Aftenstemning	En Svane	Grieg	Grieg
Solveigs Sang	Fra Monte Pincio	Grieg	Grieg

La Soiree dans Grenade	Malacueha	Alberiz	Alberiz
Polichinelle	Villa Lobo	De Falla	De Falla
Danse Rituelle du Feu	From the Land of the Sky	Cadman	Cadman
Blue Water	The Moon Drops Low	Glenn	Glenn
Twilight	Into the Light	La Forge	La Forge

Last Saturday evening the juniors of the Seminary were entertained by the Hermon Juniors at Mt. Hermon. A joint concert was given in the evening by the Hermon Chorus and the Hermon Glee Club under the direction of Melvin G. Lacher, choral director of the schools.

Instead of the regular meetings, each Club at the Seminary will have its annual picnic on Saturday. This will be the last get-together of the various clubs for this school year.

The annual Tree Day celebration will be held on Monday at 3 p.m. on Marquand field. A pageant written by Kathleen Turner and Margaret Wills entitled "Mother Goose May Day" will introduce such beloved childhood characters as Alice in Wonderland, Jack and Jill, Little Boy Blue, King Cole, etc. We venture to say it will be one of the most unique performances ever witnessed on a Tree Day program.

The long-awaited Bird Day has come and gone. Early Tuesday morning Miss Wilson appeared in the doorway of each dormitory at the Seminary with the glad tidings of an entirely free day for all. After a day in the open the tired but happy, sunburned girls were ready for a good night's rest.

Miss Victoria Freeman, a member of the English Department at Northfield Seminary conducted the chapel service on Wednesday morning, May 9. She spoke on the use of leisure time and how we can find pleasure in activities which we consider work.

During the past two weeks 58 girls have been entertained by Miss Fanny C. Hatch, secretary of the Northfield Seminary Alumni Association, who has been giving a series of teas at the Birthplace and her Kensington office. These teas have been given in order that high school graduates and students who will not return to the Seminary next year, not including seniors, may become familiar with the Alumnae Association and increase its membership.

Mrs. Annette P. Sturgis, hostess at the Birthplace, presided at the teas as chairman of the Membership Committee of the Alumnae Association. Those assisting have been Mrs. Caroline W. Frary and Mrs. Arlene P. Moody of East Northfield; Mrs. Florence Pond Stark of Mount Hermon; Mrs. Josephine A. Webster of Northfield; and Miss Ethel Gladwin of the alumnae office—all of whom are alumnae of the Seminary.

READING in brilliant sunlight by the open mesh of net, so that the room isn't a checker board of black and white. Instead there is a strong even light that extends into the darkest corner.

Over-drapes lately seem to be more tailored than in previous years—partly due to the vogue for simple modern lines in everything. It is natural, therefore, that the glass curtain should carry some of the burden of decoration.

The new net curtains have appeared with bay figures allusively against the light. They are simple and graceful in design—sometimes merely a diagonal or group of horizontal bands. However, they are always planned with the complete window in mind, not as a small repeat, as is the case of material by the yard. Often a leaf pattern or vine climbs up the wide bands and the center is plain.

In any case, old or new, lace and net solve the sun problem. At last we can see through our windows, the sun can warm our rooms and delight our souls, yet it is diffused

Your Children's EYES

What Are You Doing to Protect Them?

According to a recent test of the eyes of 100,000 children of school age, it was found that for every fifty children with defective vision there were 5 times as many country children suffering a like handicap. In commenting on this report an eminent ophthalmologist said: "The poor lights of the country are certainly getting in their work. There's no reason now, however, why country children should not have ample light of the proper quality, for the Aladdin knows a mantle lamp provides a modern white light that even gas or electricity cannot match and at far less cost than either. Insure your children's eyes against defective vision by securing an Aladdin at once."

There is a mountain fender in a Denver Park. Aim it and read the mountain's name, or vice versa. The Garden of the Gods at Colorado Springs is a most interesting place and a safe place where children may climb.

South Vernon

Services at the South Vernon Church next Sunday and during the week:—

9:30 A. M. Church School.
10:45 A. M. Sermon by the pastor, Rev. Geo. A. Gray.

7 P. M. Song Service followed by a sermon.

7:30 P. M. Thursday, May 17, Mid-week Service at the Vernon Home.

Last Sunday at the morning service, at the South Vernon Church, a very interesting talk was given on "Missionary Work in India," by Mrs. Helen Keeney, of Boston. The Chorus Choir sang a special selection and then an exceptionally beautiful duet and quartet was sung, "Nailed to the Cross," by Rev. and Mrs. Gray, E. W. Dunklee and Mrs. Gertrude Gibson, organist. During the Sunday School hour, Mrs. Keeney told a very interesting Missionary story to the children about "A Naughty Boy, who became a Good Boy."

In the evening after the song service, Rev. Mr. Gray preached on the subject "Tapping the Springs of the Soul." A solo was sung by Mrs. Helen Keeney.

Mrs. Crawford Pease of Greenfield, Mass., was a Sunday guest of her sister, Miss Kathleen Gerish, and attended the South Vernon Church services.

Warren G. Brown of Fort Ethan Allan was a Sunday guest of his mother, Mrs. M. H. Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. Mule Jones and family spent Sunday with his mother, Mrs. Etta Jones, in East Dover, N. H.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Potter of Rowe, Mass., and their daughter, Miss Mabel, teacher in Windsor Locks, Conn., and her friend Floyd Rich of Springfield, Mass., were guests of the former cousins, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Allen, last week Wednesday.

Mrs. Isabelle Lawrence of Brattleboro, has been spending a few days at her summer home, the "Newton Homestead."

Mrs. R. C. Allen has received word that her brother, Alton Muse is in a very critical condition at the Peekskill hospital in New York where he went about a week ago for an operation for ruptured appendix. The doctors give only a very slight hope of his recovery.

The Connecticut and Western Massachusetts W. H. and M. Societies came to the South Vernon Church and held a very interesting all day Missionary Rally on Tuesday, May 8. The morning service was opened by the Pastor, Rev. Geo. A. Gray. Singing by the audience and then Mr. Gray gave a short talk, and welcomed the guests. Mrs. Barker of Waterbury Conn. announced the program at both morning and afternoon services. Secretary's report was read by Mrs. Rollins of Hartford, Conn.

Mrs. Keeney gave a talk on the interesting books and pamphlets the society has to sell. Adjourned for lunch and a social time to the upstairs room.

Ernest W. Dunklee took a trip to Windsor, Vermont Tuesday morning, returning that night.

The services commenced at 1 P. M. The principal addresses of the afternoon were given by Mrs. Montblau of Bristol, Conn. and Mrs. Christine (Lang) Baker of Rutland, Vt., a returned Missionary from India. Her address about the many schools and her work in India was greatly enjoyed by all.

Rev. Geo. E. Tyler of South Vernon, Vermont, who was once a pastor of the Bristol, Conn. church for several years gave an address of welcome to his former friends

Goodyear Builds New Tire To Meet Mileage Demand

Designed To Meet Modern
Demands Of Faster
Automobiles

A new automobile tire, designed to give greatly extended mileage on modern high speed automobiles, has been announced by Miles E. Morgan local dealer for the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co.

The new tire, known as the "G-3," was developed to reduce fast tread wear which has become rather common with the rapid improvement in automobile models.

Some of the factors that have contributed to rapid tire wear are reduction in wheel diameters, increased get away and pick-up, improved brakes and higher speeds made possible by increased engine horsepower.

Long development and test work in the Goodyear laboratories and on the highways have resulted in the new "G-3" All-Weather tire which averages 43 per cent increased non-skid mileage.

The improved results were accomplished by widening and flattening the tread, increasing the number of non-skid blocks by arranging them closer together, deepening the grooves between the blocks and widening the riding ribs.

Among grueling tests the tires were subjected to before being put on the market were actual road trials in which the test cars were driven 24 hours a day at 50 miles an hour, with complete and fast stops being made every two or five miles. This test was so severe that brake linings of the test cars completely wore out every three days.

Even under these most adverse conditions, the new "G-3" All-Weather tires rolled up mileage records that compared favorably with results hitherto attained under normal driving conditions. Tire engineers have acclaimed the "G-3" design the most important forward step in the tire industry since the advent of the balloon tire.

BRATTLEBORO, VT.

Rev. Joseph O'Connor, who used a single ring service. The couple were attended by Miss Marie Bergeron of Brockton, Mass., and Julius Bergeron of Boston.

The bride's gown was of white satin with jacket of Duchesse lace and veil of embroidered net arranged from a halo cap. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. The bridesmaid was gowned in light blue chiffon and wore a large pink hat. Her bouquet was of pink roses. Harold Bergeron of Keene, brother of the bridegroom, and Leonard Young of this town, brother of the bride, were ushers. A wedding breakfast at the bride's home followed the ceremony.

The bride was graduated from Hinsdale High School in 1928 and from Farnham Memorial Hospital Training School in 1932. The bridegroom, a graduate of Keene High School in 1922, attended Keene Normal School. He now is employed as rural carrier in Keene. They will make their home on Winchester Street, Keene.

Erving Genealogist Honored

Miss Florence M. Rankin, resident on North Street, Erving who has won local recognition for her work in genealogical and historical research, has been honored by being included in the list of the leading active genealogical researchers in the United States, in The Handbook of American Genealogy recently issued by The Institute of American Genealogy of Chicago.

Recognition in this field affords access to the extensive lineage files of The National Clearing House for Genealogical Information, as well as professional contact with genealogists in 1,984 cities, in 1,285 counties throughout the United States and in 29 foreign countries, which will enable her to expand the scope of her work very materially.

It will be of interest to the members and prospective members, and especially to the registrars of the Daughters of the American Revolution, Colonial Dames, and other hereditary-patriotic societies to learn that a local resident has formed these international contacts, because they will make possible the necessary genealogical research to qualify for membership without outside aid.

American Woman's "Touchiness" Traced To Breaking In New Shoes

By Adele Vance

NEW YORK CITY.—American women are not naturally "touchy" or temperamental, but the temperament which they do show on occasion may be partly traced to physical inconvenience in keeping up with style, according to Prof. Morton P. Gass, eminent psychologist.

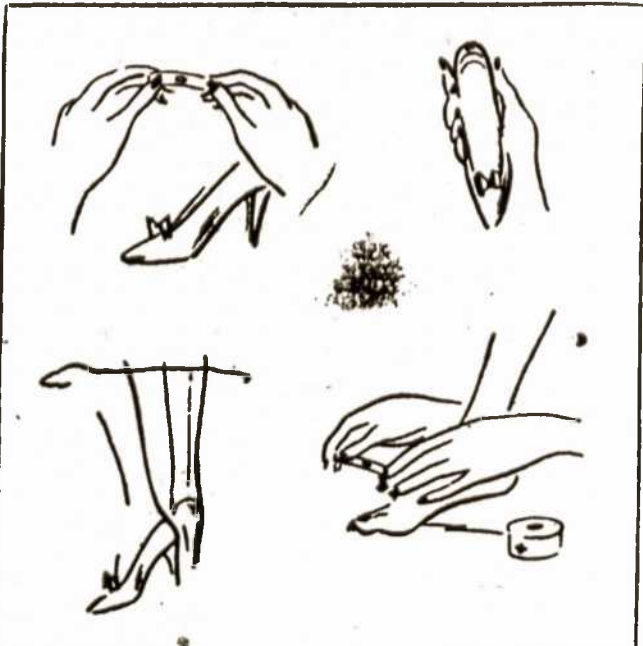

"The feminine desire to be stylish has resulted in having them endure many discomforts to which they give expression in the form of temperamental," states the professor. "And the fact that women are less touchy today than they were a generation or so ago may be traceable partly to the disappearance of the old fashioned tightly laced corset."

"We still have with us tight shoes as a cause of temperamental, however. It seems to be a feminine trait to insist on 'breaking in' a pair of new shoes at a dance or other social affair, resulting in the out-cropping of 'that touchiness.'"

"New shoes need not be a painful process, however. Science and feminine intuition have now combined to make it a lot easier and comfort in new shoes may be attained by going no farther than the household medicine chest."

If you are putting on a pair of new high-heeled shoes preparatory to going to a dance, and are wearing sheer stockings, you can prevent the shoes from slipping off your heels and chafing by placing a piece of surgical adhesive tape in the heel where the slip occurs. A perspiration proof adhesive is the best to use for this purpose. The Red Cross Division of Johnson and Johnson Co. has sensed the need for an adhesive tape of this sort and has brought out Drybak which is not only perspiration proof, but a flesh colored and, hence, invisible. If the corded bindings around the edge of your opera pumps press on your instep—and opera pumps are exceedingly flattering to the feet—a "bandaid" plaster from the medicine chest will cushion the instep at the place where the binding occurs and you may dance in comfort. The same is true if the toe of the shoe presses your toe. Just place a bandaid across the toes where the pinch would occur and let it take the wear. Heel blisters can be prevented the same way—by placing a bandaid across the heel right where the edge of the shoe would hit and rub.

Wearing new slippers to a party won't be uncomfortable if you use perspiration proof adhesive and band-aids wisely to prevent heel blisters, cushion the instep or to prevent toe pinching.

By resorting to these simple expedients, you can "break in" new shoes on occasions when you want to look your best, and no resulting outbreaks of "touchiness" will occur. Besides that you will eliminate that embarrassing "slipper hunt" which takes place when the inconvenience of new shoes prompts you to slip them off under the table—and feel frantically for them with a toe when it's necessary to put them on again.

Spare not, nor spend too much, be this thy care; spare but to spend, and only spend to spare.

Mrs. Waldo Stebbins and son Leonard visited relatives in Mechanicsville, N. Y., Sunday.

Unemployed Census

Preliminary figures for Northfield show a gain of 54 in population since the 1930 census. These figures are released by Mrs. Anne Page, director of the Massachusetts Unemployment Census, with headquarters at 189 Congress St., Boston. The present count shows a total, as of January 2, 1934, of 1,942. The 1930 census reported 1,888. If any have not been interviewed for this census the names and addresses should be sent to Mrs. Page immediately. Of these 1,942, according to the preliminary figures, there was a total of 723 employable workers, 556 men and 167 women. Employable workers include both those who are employed and those who are not employed. On January 2nd, there were 418 men and 152 women fully employed; 9 men and 4 women working on part time. The figures show that there were 140 unemployed, 129 men and 11 women. The unemployed include those who were on temporary government or private projects at the time the census was taken, as of January 2nd. The unemployment percentage for Northfield is 19.4 percent.

There is a moving mountain near Durango, Colorado.

Miners are an interesting and most patient class of worker.

Royal Gorge is an astonishing gash in the earth's surface.

A decided increase in the number of agricultural fairs in Massachusetts which will be eligible for state premium money this year is indicated by the applications which have come in to the Division of Fairs, State Department of Agriculture. The closing date for applications was April 1, and L. B. Boston, Director of the Division of Fairs, reports that 111 applications have been received, as against 100 last year.

The increase is in community and grange fairs. This is a natural development in the opinion of Dr.

A. W. Gilbert, State Commissioner of Agriculture. "The difficult times through which the farmers of the state have been passing," he said, "naturally tends toward a development of the comparatively inexpensive local shows. The larger fairs are holding their own in attendance and interest and community and grange fairs seem to be decidedly on the increase."

Happy is the woman who knows that every little detail of her costume is assuredly correct and in the style of the moment. Just as satisfactory as it is to know one's home is in style...for styles in home decoration, too, come and go at fashion's whim.

This is ever so true of awnings, those happy splashes of gay color which do so much to enliven a home's appearance. The awnings on your house this summer should be the ones which lead from the standpoint of style. These are the ones which will be seen on the best-dressed homes in your community.

Chicago. — Alice's wonderland will become an actual fact for children in the Adventure Land of the Enchanted Island at the new World's Fair which opens in Chicago May 26. The Enchanted Island is being entirely rebuilt, with Adventure Land the most unusual of forty new features designed especially for children.

Here little boys and girls will find the world of Captain Kidd, the Fairy Queen, the Old Witch and Prince Charming. As children leave the world of realities and cross the threshold of Adventure Land, they will find themselves in an enchanted forest. Fairy-book stars will peep at them through thick foliage overhead; owls will hoot and birds will sing to them; there will be a thunder shower, a noisy, tumbling cataract, a babbling brook and, at the end of the path, a gingerbread house.

Service is the greatest thing in the human calendar, and the better we equip ourselves the better we serve, because in the expansion of the mind comes the better understanding of how best to serve. No matter what your fortunes in life, the greatest compensation that will come to you tomorrow, or next year, or the closing year of your life will be the consciousness that you have somehow been of service, either to your friends, your state or your common country. This is the greatest thing that can happen.—Wisconsin Press.

Easy!

"Oysters," observes a writer, "are difficult to open." One method is to place them near a loud-speaker during a broadcast and slip in wedges when they yawn.

Where To Stop

"Where are some good places to stop on this trip?" asked the prospective automobile tourist.

"At all railroad crossings," replied the clerk in the tourist bureau.
